

Please support Net Neutrality. The rights of the many people are impacted when a very few large corporations are able to effectively control the modern Internet. Title II and other mechanisms may be less than perfect but they are the best tools we currently have for ensuring that the vast majority of the people of the United States have good access to the Internet.

I support Title II and continuing the protections for unrestricted internet access that are currently in place.

Unrestricted access to information is one of the greatest achievements of our time. It has created new forms of business and prosperity and has provided a open forum to all.

I urge the FCC as strongly as possible to maintain and enforce the Net Neutrality protections that are in place.
